TREASURY DEPARTMENT

JUNE 27, 1798.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of an act, passed during the present session of Congress, so much of the act entituled "An Act making further provision for the support of public credit, and for the redemption of the public debt—passed the third day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, as bars from settlement or allowance, Certificates, commonly called Loan Office and final settlement Certicates, and Indents of Interests, is suspended until the twelfth day of June, which will be in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine.

That on the liquidation and settlement of the said Certificates, and Indents of Interest, at the Treasury, the Creditor will be entitled to receive Certificates of funded Three Per Cent. Stock equal to the amount of the said Indents, and the arrearages of interest due on their said Certificates, prior to the first day of January one thousand seven hundred and ninety one.

That the principal sums of the said Loan Office and final settlement Certificates, with the interest thereon, since the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety one, will be discharged after liquidation at the Treasury, by the payment of interest and reimbursement of principal, equal to the sums which would have been payable thereon, if the said Certificates had been subscribed, pursuant to the Acts making provision for the debts of the United States, contracted during the late war, and by the payment of other sums, equal to the market value of the remaining Stock, which would have been created by such subscriptions as aforesaid, which market value will be determined by the Comptroller of the Treasury.

LUDICROUS.

The following singular incident happened in the state of Vermont, the last summer.

A Mr. Loudon Case, of Addison, was riding with his sister on horseback, from Waterbury to Stowe—Their road lay through a long piece of wood; when they were about half way through, and four miles distant from any house, they were overtaken by a gentleman well dressed and mounted on a spirited horse, who joined the travellers, and politely bowing entered into a very amusing conversation—The party soon came to a very fine spring, where they all stopped to water their horses. The stranger immediately sprung from his horse and observed "that he had a loaded pistol in his saddle bags, and that he did not know that he should have a better time to discharge it. Mr. Case immediately took the alarm, and whilst the highwayman was searching for his pistol, struck his sister's horse, and putting spurs to his own set off full gallop. The stranger repeatedly called to them to stop! but Mr. Case looking round observed that he held the loaded pistol in his hand, struck his spurs deeper and fled for life. The stranger mounted his horse and pursued. He soon overtook the young lady, and begged her as he passed, for God's sake, not to be frightened, rode off full speed after the brother, beseeching him not to be frightened, declaring he intended him no harm. Mr. Case, after dropping his hat and portmanteu, happily arrived safe in Stowe. He immediately alarmed the inhabitants, who with great bravery, activity, and spirit, apprehended the highwayman. But upon searching him, no pistol was found about him; his saddle bags contained only a case of surgical instruments, some necessary linen, and a small bottle of Jamaica spirits—This last article, it seems, give rise to Mr. Case's perturbation—The highwayman proved to be a physician of eminence and character from the neighbouring town of Cambridge, and it seems merely intended to invite Mr. Case to partake of his Jamaica spirits; called the bottle by the common cant name of a pistol. Mr. Case's hat and portmanteau were found safe in the road the next day; and we understand the young lady suffered no lasting injury from her alarm; not being so much frightened as her brother. In newspaper phrase, "This should be a solemn warning to people travelling not to make use of metaphors."

From a London Paper.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON May 4.

The imperial Army in Italy, by passing the Mincoi, and taking possession of the important posts of Governolo and Veleggio, has insulated Mantua both on the Upper and Lower Mincoi. We shall probably learn, before long, that fortess has no longer any communication with the French army, and that it is, if not invested, at least blockaded by posts established at short distances on all the roads which lead to it. The advantages which the corps of Gen. Wuckassvich has gained between the lakes of Garda and Iseo will facilitate the siege of Peschiera, will prepare the march of the great army into Lombardy, and will allow Gen. Bellegarde to act with greater confidence and safety. The march of Gen. Klenau on the Lower Po, though not essential to future operations, has neverless been of great utility: it has deprived the Fr. of the navigation of that river, and of the supplies which they had collected there, and has favoured the disposition of the inhabitants of Ferrara to shake off the yoke of the French and Cisalpine Republics.

From Switzerland and Germany we anticipate similar good news; but the war in those quarters present more difficulties, renders more measures of preparation necessary, and is liable to be affected by a greater variety of circumstances. We have, however, no doubt that the banks of the Rhine, from its source as far as Basle, have before this been the theatre of important events; the taking possession of Schaffhausen and the attack made on the same day (the 13th ult.) on Constance, and along the lake of that name, have probably been the prelude to more considerable enterprize.

It is mentioned in several letters that the King of Prussia will take part with the coalition. A sudden order came to Embden from Berlin just before the departure of the post ordering that the further exportation of oats should be strictly prohibited from the ports of East Frizeland. The letters add, that they would be wanted for the Prussian cavalry.

May 6.

By the late fire at Constantinople, Baron Herbert lost property to the amount of 100,000 florins. At the moment of general conflagration, the hotel of the English Minister, Mr. Smith, was attacked by a mob for the purpose of plunder; but so actively did that gentleman exert himself, that he defeat their intent. The Grand Seignior, on being apprised of the circumstance, caused several of the ruffians to be thrown into the flames, and others were drowned in the water.

The peasants in the vicinages of Manheim, Schwetzingin, &c. unaided by the Austrians, had attacked the French soldiers, and in some instances beaten them. At Achern, it appears by the letters from Rastadt of the 21st, that on the 19th, a corps of armed peasants surprised a strong French division there, and, after killing thirty of them, dispersed the rest. They were headed by a capuchin, and led on principally by French priests.

The last courier whom the French Ministers at Rastadt received was escorted from Selz to Rastadt by French infantry. The French continue to fortify Kehl. The French ministers will, it is said, soon invite all the princes of the Empire to make a separate peace with France.

Five Bailliwicks in the Valteline had declared in favor of Austria, and obtained from General Bellegarde a strong column for their defence. They were arming in numbers and with energy, and had occupied all the strong passes of their country.

In Switzerland, the insurrection is universal in those parts not under the immediate influence of the French armies. The Helvetic Directory, on the 17th, again urged the legislative body to declare war against the Emperor, but the great council again rejected the proposal. A letter from Schaffhausen, of the 17th says, "The interior of Switzerland is in a state of the greatest possible convulsion; each hour in the day brings advices of fresh insurrections, and the great majority of the cantons are in open opposition to the French faction."

A letter from Basle of the like date speaks to the same effect, and adds, "the insurgents of the Munsterthal lately assembled in great force in the neighborhood of Zug, for the purpose of attacking Lucerne: prompt disposition was made for repelling them, and the intended assault has been deferred. The peasants of Suisee have risen, and, demolished the prisons, released several of their incarcerated leaders."

A column of French troops had collected at Brisack, for again invading Suabia; but the critical state of Switzerland has induced their being sent thither. The French have not abandoned Little Basle, but are using every means in their power to strengthen its fortifications.

May 7.

The following paragraph is extracted from a Paris paper.

"We do not know yet what to think of the elections. From the nomination of Rewbel to the Council of Antients, it is presumed here that he will go out of the Directory. Aubriot or Sieyes are talked of as his successor. Meanwhile, it appears certain that Government is taking extraordinary measures to meet the present circumstances. They talk of new conscription, of war taxes. —Some even go so far as to assert, that elections will in a few days be suspended, and the present authorities declared permanent till a peace."

NEW-YORK, June 26.

We have been favoured with the following—handed us by a Correspondent for publication:

In the schr. Rein Deer, capt. Connell, from Surrinam, came passenger capt Farquher of the brig Prudence, who, on his passage from North Carolina to Surrinam, on the 22d March last, within ten leagues of Bruams Point, and not more than two leagues from the land, was taken by a French schooner of 8 guns, who put on board a prize master and seven men, and took out all his crew except himself and the cook, and ordered the prize master to proceed for Cayenne. Next morning the schr. being out of sight, the prize master continued beating to windward for five days, when at the request of the crew, he bore away for Surrinam. The favourable representations that had been made in the United States, of the friendly disposition of the Governor of that place, and particular from his letter that was first published in Boston, and then through the United States, wherein he declared that he would protect neutrals and particular Americans from all privateers; and capt R. being consigned to a mercantile house there, induced him to suppose that he would be put in possession of his vessel and property; but to his great disappointment, even his protest of being captured within his excellency's jurisdiction, had no avail. The Governor's pretended declaration of protection, no doubt arose from good policy; because it is on the United States alone, both that colony and Cayenne, depend for all the necessaries of life. As it is not to be supposed that they can procure supplies at present either from Holland or France, should the commerce between this country and their colonies be suspended, no doubt, they would be more friendly to Americans, and not suffer their vessels to be confiscated in their ports. Although the Governor denied them the privilege of disposing of the vessel or cargo, yet after all his friendly pretensions, he suffered the vessel to be unloaded and part of her cargo sent to Cayenne.

Unless the government of the United States, station some vessel of war on that coast, the trade will be greatly harrassed.

THE

MÆVIAD.

By WILLIAM GIFFORD, ESQUIRE.

To which is prefixed,

A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR

By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America.—This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

☞ Some Copies have been sent on to Mr. Somerville, Maiden Lane, New York, also to Mr. Hill, Baltimore, and to Mr. Young, Charleston.

Copies will be sent to Boston and other places, as soon as occasions offer.]

The Subscriber offers for Sale,

THE FOLLOWING PROPERTY.

AN Excellent three story Brick House, situate the corner of 7th and Race-streets;—the house is about 25 feet front and well finished in every respect; the Lot is 76 feet front on Race-street and 88 feet deep, the situation remarkably airy, having a public square open in Front of it.

Two three story Brick Houses, Brick Stores, and good Wharf, situate in Water-street, between Arch and Race-streets, the lot on which these buildings are, is fifty four feet front on Water-street, and continues that width about 95 feet, then widens to the south 13 feet 6 inches, so that the front on the water is sixty seven feet six inches, this lot adjoins John Steinmetz esq. on the south, and has the advantage of a public alley on the north, and is a very desirable situation for the business of a Flour Factor, or Merchant

A large elegant two story Stone House, situate on the Point no Point road, being the first house to the Northward of the five mile stone; this house is about 60 feet front and 40 feet deep finished in a neat manner; there is a good garden and choice collection of the best fruit trees, Ice-House and other conveniences with about nine acres of ground—or if more agreeable to the purchaser, thirty two acres of upland and meadow may be added to it.

A plantation in Bibirry Township, Philadelphia county near the Red Lyon, about 13 miles from this city; bounded by the Northampton Road and Poquessing Creek, this farm contains about 140 acres of land, a proportion of which is woodland and meadow, a brick dwelling-house, frame barn, and other out-houses, and there is said to be a good stone quarry on part of it, although it has not yet been opened, a further description is deemed unnecessary as no person will purchase without viewing the premises,

A small plantation in Horsham Township, Montgomery county, nineteen miles from Philadelphia, adjoining to Grame Park, on which is an excellent new Stone House and Kitchen, with a large Stone Shed for the accommodation of traveller's horses; the house is now occupied as a tavern, and is suitable for any kind of public business, the land is good in quality, a good neighborhood, and a remarkably healthy situation: there is fifty acres of land and meadow in this farm——Also for sale, several tracts of land in different counties of this state.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports Heads of Departments, or Committees and other Official and Private Papers that Body, now first permitted to bide public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament will be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. when bound, but, as the publishers do not intend to print many more than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet able to determine the extent of the Private Jour[nals], which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments are made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to the only of the Old Congress' prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in those rude ages, being called off to their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to ours? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Christian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it is already acquired:

"That having, in the respective avocations, frequent occasions to refer to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print a public record; and that he hath obtained proper countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary, to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom, render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained in private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

SALEM, June 25.

The privateer which captured Capt. Jesse Smith, of this port, was soon after taken by an English cruizer. We are informed that her consort was also chased by the Englishman, and by crowding all the sail she could was carried under, and even soul lost. The privateers are said to have belonged to Barney; and, in the didactic language of newspapers, their sad fate should operate as a warning to Americans not to become traitors to their country.

BOSTON, June 26.

General Maitland has completely effected the object of his mission to St. Domingo, and it is said Rigaud has relinquished all opposition to the new arrangements. Free admission is allowed to Americans all ports of St. Domingo, and the Mole to be garrisoned by British troops.

Eight hundred troops from Ireland have arrived at Martinique.

The Legislature of this state adjourned on Saturday last, to the second Wednesday in January next.

SAVANNAH, June .

On Wednesday Evening last the Hon. Matthew M'Allister, mayor, attended by the City Council, Mr. Recorder, another city officers, met the Trustees, of the intended Exchange, and in an address applicable to the occasion, delivered the lease of the ground on the spot whereon the building is to be erected. Mr. Stephens one of the trustees, received the Deed, and delivering a counterpart to the Mayor, made acknowledgments to the Corporation for the confidence placed by them, in the share holders of the Exchange and generally observing at the same time on the rising consequence of this state in agriculture and commerce, and of this City in particular—the great depot of the vast productions, and valuable staples of rice, tobacco cotton and lumber, which introduced great trade and intercourse with the world, and which was requisite to be encouraged, under the present situation of the contry, and of equal consequnce to the Union. As an instance of the increase of population, industry and wealth, Mr. Stephens observed, that although it appeared the valuable staple of cotton, the growth of this State was not noticed by the politicans of the year 1793, as an article of export; it must at this time be very satisfactory to observe, that (altho', not a favorable season) of the last year's growth there was exported from this city 2,500,000 pounds weight of cotton to manufacturing countries. As to the immense quantities of tobacco, rice, and lumber exported, and daily at market, it is in the knowledge of those whose pursuits are in the mercantile line; the truth of this fact however could be easily ascertained, by recurring to the Custom-House books, that those staples were equally valuable, an advantageous, and ought to fill the mind with a reverential awe, for the kind dispensations of Providence in placing us, in a climate, calculated for the production of not only the necessaries but the comforts of life. Hence the propriety of erecting an Exchange, for the resort of Merchants and others whose dealings calls them frequently together, and for the accommodation of public officers whose duties require a central situation.

It was likewise observed, that the mayor and all present, who had with him the welfare of the city at heart, must be highly gratified, when calling to mind, that on the spot whereon the audience were assembled, stood a small but public building, used as an Exchange from the early settlement of the city, by its ancient inhabitants, which was consumed by fire, little more than two years past, that the ashes of so humble a shed, should rise to so stupendous a building now about to be set up; and that the trustees, and share holders, of the Exchange, trusted that the building would not only be ornamental but useful, and that the business, conducted therein would be marked with principles of justice, integrity and punctuality, which consequently would insure it a character, equal to any similar Edifice it the world,

At the same time the corner stone of the City Exchange, was laid by the Right Worshipful William Stephens, Grand Master of Masons, in this state, assisted by the Honorable the Mayor of this city. The Mayor and Aldermen, having honored the Grand Lodge with requesting their presence on the occasion, joined the Masonic procession from the City Hall, after the ceremony of laying the stone and depositing a plate with the following inscription.

A. L. 5799
A. D. 1799
Of the Independence of America, the 23d year.

Matthew M'Allister, Mayor.
William Stephens, Grand Master.

The Grand Master, in an address to his brethren, congratulated them, on the honor done them, by the invitation, to assemble there, at the request of the Mayor and Aldermen, and enforced the duties of the craft as men and masons, shewed the necessity of encouraging arts and sciences, as illustrative of their original institution, being from time immemorial; the principles of which, he insisted were pure, and to shew, that they were so, was, for the brethern to continue, to square their actions as to be in compass, with all the world.—This conduct, would insure them an honourable reward in having a conscience void of offence; and as men and fellow citizens, at all times ready to support government and good order, as necessary to the very existence of so ancient a society, the harmony of which is attempted to be disturbed, by the malignant interference of persons, ignorant of the grand design of masonry,—and concluded with the following, amongst other serious invocations.

"May the present undertaking prove prosperous to the adventurers, useful and ornamental to our city, and answer the designs intended!"

"May the building shew strength and beauty, duly proportioned, and stand the test of time, an honourable pile to our city, and a lasting monument to the good intentions of its founders."

A collection being made, and deposited on the stone for the workmen, the procession returned to the City-Hall and were dismissed.

The lease and counterpart of the ground, whereon the Tobacco Ware House is erected, being executed, were exchanged at the same time.—This building will be ready for the ensuing crop of Tobacco—the subscribers thereto engaged to endeavour to have the inspectors appointed from amongst the most approved characters, and judges of Tobacco.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 1.

The faction, or real republicans as they style themselves, have done every thing, in their power, to induce the United States, to begin with France, where Carthage ended with Rome. They laboured, that we should deliver up our vessels to France, in other words, that we should not protect them; that we should renounce the right of making war, in other words, that we, should draw ourselves up, within our own shell; and through the cunning Gerry, that we should for the sake of peace, pay them by way of Loan, an annual tribute, which this winking politician, thought, was not forbidden by his instructions.

It is certain, that Carthage was destroyed by its factions, and by want of wisdom and resolution in its government to send to Hannibal, the reinforcements and succour he required, after the battle of Cannæ. Said the faction, by their leader Hanno, no succours, hear me good people, there is but one part for us to take, let us make peace, since war ruins us, notwithstanding our advantages. The ignorant multitude were deceived, they cried, our burdens will be lightened by peace. Hannibal was re-called from Italy, and beat by Scipio, at the battle of Zama. Then it was, that the poor Carthaginians found, in what consisted peace with the Romans; they engaged to pay, ten millions of talents, in the space of fifty years; they delivered up their vessels, and renounced the right of making war, by consenting not to arm themselves, without the permission of the Roman Republic.

Should we be cursed with such a faction, and weak executive, and make the fatal experiment, of drawing ourselves up within our own shell, and making a Roman peace, in the foolish hope of avoiding war, and saving expence; then shall the United States experience the fate of Carthage, and, stripped of every shilling, by requisition or tribute, and every right, fall, never again to rise.

One trait of a Jacobin is, a cold blooded indifference, to all the cruelties, dilapidations, and outrages, on men, property, morals, and justice, committed by the French Directory. Another, a bold, unwearied and traitorous approbation, of all their revolutionizing practices, and conquests, without the least apparent dread of the final consequences of such practices and conquests, to the peace, safety and independence of the United States.

The system of the French Directory, which is no longer equivocal, to those who have observed its progress, with the least attention and which is no longer, even attempted to be concealed by the Jacobins, is thus described by Carnot, who though he escaped from their power, is still devoted to the interests of France:

"Their system (that of the French Directory) is to found the National power, less upon the real grandeur of the republic, than upon weakening and destroying its neighbours, by combatting one after another; in treating them as friends, so long as it is necessary to paralize them, or extract from them succours in some form or other, and when the proper time arrives to crush them, their fertile genius soon invents pretexts, to realise, as it respects them, the fable of the wolf and the lamb. One may see their conduct to the little Swiss Cantons. It was not against the Bernoise Oligarchy, that they preferred so many grievances, that is to say, those who had thirty millions in reserve, and a magnificent arsenal. It was against the children of William Tell, democrats, poor, having almost no relation to, or connection with their neighbours. No matter; they must be revolutionized. The liberty which had rendered them happy for 500 years; that liberty, formerly so much the envy of France, is not true liberty. They must accept in its stead, a constitution which is presented to them, or death; they do not like this constitution, which they find less democratic than their own; they are murdered, it being clear, that intrigues and fanaticism alone, could prevent them from accepting this pledge of their new felicity. To kill them was the surest means, to make them cease to believe in intrigues and priests. Nevertheless this handfull of simple men, who for 300 years, were ignorant of fighting, dared to resist: their republican blood is mixed with that of French republicans, not in a common defence of the sacred rights of the people, but in mutual efforts to destroy one another."

Carnot continues. "O! impious war, in which it would seem, that the object of the Directory was, to make the experiment how many chosen victims it could immolate, to its caprice, among freemen, the most poor and the most virtuous; to strangle liberty in its own cradles; to punish the Helvetian rocks, for having given it birth. Worthy rivals of Grisler, the Triumvirs have also wished to exterminate the race of William Tell; the death of the Tyrant has been avenged by them; the chiefs of the Democratic families have been offered up in expiation; they died in defending the entrance to their small territory, and opposing the violation of their fire sides; their affrighted flocks, have fled into the desert; the icy mountains have re-echoed with the cry of orphans, devoured by hunger, and the sources of the Rhine, the Rhone, and the Adda, have carried to all seas the tears of desolated widows. Happily, I cannot be suspected of having had a part in these dishonourable acts. Had I continued in the Directory, it would have been I, who would one day have been accused of them. May they (adds Carnot) never be fatal to France."

These are the men, praised by the minister of the American faction (the observing, penetrating, travelling and learned Doctor Logan) for their religion and morality. But as a modern author beautifully observes, "Let the disciples of Machiavel despise the laws of nature. Let their doctrines boast a little temporary success, or individual elevation. Providence does not descend to our minute span. Political villainy may prosper for a single life, or mould the fortunes of a particular man; but where is the nation which has prospered, for despising the laws of Heaven?"

COMMUNICATIONS.

There is considerable ground for exultation on the lamentations of those contemptible wretches, the United Irish, in this country, over those of their brethren who are finding their way into the military rank, and discipline, of his majesty of Prussia!

That commiseration which is due to the truly unfortunate (and of such a few might be found, possibly, among the Irish at home) has long been forfeited by those miscreants, who have found their way to these hospitable shores.

Are those wretches who have (most unfortunately!) been admitted to a participation of our comforts, and the privileges of fremen, but who have been instantaneously, ready to sap the vitals of our government, by originating, or giving aid to, the most diabolical licenciousness, to be thereafter commiserated for any severities which they, through their wonderful sympathy, may experience? So far from it, it must be the devout wish of every real friend to the cause of humanity, or good order, that every Irish patriot now in this country, were consigned over to the excellent subordination, and humane treatment which they would no doubt receive at the hands of the dear friend and ally (in fact) of their blessed redeemers, the French republic!

If there remained any source for surprise at the assassinating cowardice of the Irish patriots who have fled to these safer shores; it would be in their distant rejoicings at the assistance they still flatter themselves, that their suffering brethren are likely to receive from foreign aid—the equally abandoned Frenchmen!

The Aurora says, that the safety of all republican governments depends on the success and exertions of the French. This same lying vehicle is daily sounding the alarm of danger to this republic; and this assertion is only an additional proof (which indeed was not wanting) of the traiterous views of the Irish and native rebels amongst ourselves!

A circumstantial account of the capture of the Ship Harmony, on her passage from London to Philadelphia.

"The ship Harmony, parted from the convoy on the 22d May; she met with nothing material until the 27th, when she fell in with and was captured in lat. 41, 42, by a French corvette (La Sorieuse) of 36 guns, who took part of her cargo, capt. Snell and five seamen, three boys and one female passengers.

The commander of the corvette sent on board the Harmony, a second lieutenant, 2 other officers, and seven men—Of the crew Mr. John Nelson chief mate, cook and steward, were permitted to remain on board, with two ladies, passengers, Mrs. Ardly and Mrs. Clayton, of London. One of the ladies fortunately requested permission to retain the steward, whom she passed as her waiter, and which was very politely granted: Another circumstance still more fortunate, was her strenously pressing that Mr. Clayton might be permitted to stay, which was, after several messages to the commander of the corvette refused, and he was ordered on board; but she wrote to a lady on board the corvette, who spoke English, (wife of the late captain of the Insurgente) begging she would use her influence with the captain to permit him to return, which, together with his own entreaties prevailed, and he returned with his baggage, which contained a blunderbuss and pistols, with ammunition.

The French officers look on this as the cause of their disaster. The French ship and the Harmony, both shaping their course for France, kept company part of two days, but as soon as the corvette was out of sight, the consulted on the means of retaking the prize which was affected by surprize, in the following manner;

The prize master and his mate being in the cabin alone, at 12 o'clock, immediately after taking an observation, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Clayton being provided with a blunderbuss and pistol, which the French had neglected to take from Clayton's trunk, and the Steward and cook armed with an ax and poker, Mr. C. attacked the prize-master by presenting a pistol, and commanded him to surrender; he immediately endeavoured to wrest the pistol from Clayton.—Mr. C. then snapped the pistol but it did not go off; the prize-master then strove to gain the deck, to inform his people of the mutiny; but seeing the steward at the head of the stairs with an axe, and Mr. C. dragging him back, and giving him several severe blows with the pistol, which knocked him down, broke the pistol and cut his head in so severe manner, that it was conjectured his skull was fractured. Mr. N. with the blunderbuss was engaged with the mate, a youth of about 17 years of age; he overpowered, threw him down, and secured him, without any blows. In the mean time, the cook and steward engaged the French sailors on deck, two or three of them being asleep, and the others, though provided with weapons had none at hand; they however made a strong resistance with kives, &c.

The prize-master seeing no probability of overcoming Mr. C. and being severely wounded, demanded quarters, and relinquished the prize. The behaviour of the ladies after the re-capture of the ship, deserves the greatest praise; they not only dressed the wounded, but kept watch, never sleeping both at once, until the pilot came on board. The gentlemen passengers, randered every assistance to Mr. N. The French sailors were assured by him, that they should be rewarded and well treated if they would assist in navigating the vessel, otherwise they should be confined on bread and water; they thought proper to accept his terms, and were treated with the greatest humanity by all on board.

The prize-master took the utmost precaution to prevent being surprized; he armed his people with axes, and made them keep watch during the night, which operated much in favour of the people of the Harmony, as the French were rendered less powerful by day.

It is said, in the New-York Daily Gazette, that the infamous Burke, the United Irishman, has left the country.

L'Insurgent, capt. Truxton's prize, is fitting for sea, and will be ready to sail in a few weeks. Capt. Murray, late of the Montezuma, is to command her.

The Constellation goes round to New-York, to exchange her 24 for 18 pounders.

Agreeable to notice in the public papers, a number of the persons appointed to collect subscriptions for the relief of the poor sufferers at the late fire, met at the sign of the Buck, June 29th. and having chosen Samuel Wheeler, Chairman, and Amos Wickersham, Secretary—then agreed to the following resolutions:

1st. That Samuel Wheeler, Thomas Barns, John Inskeep, Amos Wickersham, Joseph Hertzog, Levi Hollingsworth, and William Penrose, be a committee to investigate the losses sustained, and distribute the mony that is or may be collected, to such individuals as they shall deem suitable objects, and in such proportions as they shall think proper.

2d. That the said Committee choose a Chairman and Secretary, and that four of them be a quorum: That all orders for money be signed by the Chairman at the board, and minuted by the Secretary, and drawn on the Treasurer for payment.

That the abovementioned Committee have their first meeting on Tuesday the 2d. July next, at 7 o'clock in the evening, at the sign of the Buck, in Second street, and in the mean time the several committees of collection are requested to be as expeditious as possible in closing the duties assigned them, and placing the money with Thomas Norton, the Treasurer.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſtleton, Newtown, Scotch-Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwick, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render travelling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet It goes through Frankford to Buſtleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſtletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.
Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation, They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very expliciti'y, that they will be reſponſible for the ſafe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has bren taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns, ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.
